Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2010/08/18: CIA-RDP85T00287R000800190001-5 Top Secret Directorate of Intelligence

IMC/CB

Afghanistan Situation Report

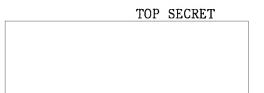

25X1

21 June 1983

Top Secret NESA M 83-10144CX SOVA M 83-1011 | CX 21 June 1983

AFGHANISTAN SITUATION REPORT CONTENTS FOOD SHORTAGES IN SOUTHWEST
CONTENTS FOOD SHORTAGES IN SOUTHWEST
CONTENTS FOOD SHORTAGES IN SOUTHWEST
CONTENTS FOOD SHORTAGES IN SOUTHWEST
FOOD SHORTAGES IN SOUTHWEST
The war has had a devastating effect on the food situation in
The war has had a devastating effect on the food situation in
The war has had a devastating effect on the food situation in
The war has had a devastating effect on the food situation in	1
	-
PERSPECTIVE INSURGENT RAIDS ACROSS THE SOVIET BORDER	3
Afghan insurgent raids across the Soviet border have had a negligible military impact, although they probably bolster	J insurgent morale.
This document is prepared weekly by the Office of Near Eastern and Sou Asian Analysis and the Office of Soviet Analysis. Questions or commer on the issues raised in the publication should be directed

25X1

	TOP SECRET
TOOP (
FOOD	SHORTAGES IN SOUTHWEST
FOOD S	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating
FOOD :	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating effect on the food situation, reducing farm output and disrupting
FOOD S	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating
FOOD :	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating effect on the food situation, reducing farm output and disrupting internal foodgrain distribution, high levels of malnutrition among refugees and wounded insurgents
FOOD S	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating effect on the food situation, reducing farm output and disrupting internal foodgrain distribution, high levels of malnutrition among refugees and wounded insurgents during the first half of 1983. Crop yields have reportedly
FOOD S	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating effect on the food situation, reducing farm output and disrupting internal foodgrain distribution, high levels of malnutrition among refugees and wounded insurgents during the first half of 1983. Crop yields have reportedly dropped sharply because of problems with seed and lack of
FOOD :	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating effect on the food situation, reducing farm output and disrupting internal foodgrain distribution, high levels of malnutrition among refugees and wounded insurgents during the first half of 1983. Crop yields have reportedly
FOOD S	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating effect on the food situation, reducing farm output and disrupting internal foodgrain distribution, high levels of malnutrition among refugees and wounded insurgents during the first half of 1983. Crop yields have reportedly dropped sharply because of problems with seed and lack of sufficient equipment, fertilizer, pesticides, and labor.
FOOD :	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating effect on the food situation, reducing farm output and disrupting internal foodgrain distribution, high levels of malnutrition among refugees and wounded insurgents during the first half of 1983. Crop yields have reportedly dropped sharply because of problems with seed and lack of sufficient equipment, fertilizer, pesticides, and labor. Comment: We believe that disruptions in distribution rather
FOOD	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating effect on the food situation, reducing farm output and disrupting internal foodgrain distribution, high levels of malnutrition among refugees and wounded insurgents during the first half of 1983. Crop yields have reportedly dropped sharply because of problems with seed and lack of sufficient equipment, fertilizer, pesticides, and labor. Comment: We believe that disruptions in distribution rather than overall supply shortfalls are the immediate cause of food shortages and the threat of famine. Even under normal
FOOD	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating effect on the food situation, reducing farm output and disrupting internal foodgrain distribution, high levels of malnutrition among refugees and wounded insurgents during the first half of 1983. Crop yields have reportedly dropped sharply because of problems with seed and lack of sufficient equipment, fertilizer, pesticides, and labor. Comment: We believe that disruptions in distribution rather than overall supply shortfalls are the immediate cause of food shortages and the threat of famine. Even under normal conditions, most of Afghanistan is somewhat dependent on outside
FOOD	The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating effect on the food situation, reducing farm output and disrupting internal foodgrain distribution, high levels of malnutrition among refugees and wounded insurgents during the first half of 1983. Crop yields have reportedly dropped sharply because of problems with seed and lack of sufficient equipment, fertilizer, pesticides, and labor. Comment: We believe that disruptions in distribution rather than overall supply shortfalls are the immediate cause of food shortages and the threat of famine. Even under normal conditions, most of Afghanistan is somewhat dependent on outside supplies. The public distribution network and private farmers
FOOD (The war in southwestern Afghanistan has had a devastating effect on the food situation, reducing farm output and disrupting internal foodgrain distribution, high levels of malnutrition among refugees and wounded insurgents during the first half of 1983. Crop yields have reportedly dropped sharply because of problems with seed and lack of sufficient equipment, fertilizer, pesticides, and labor. Comment: We believe that disruptions in distribution rather than overall supply shortfalls are the immediate cause of food shortages and the threat of famine. Even under normal conditions, most of Afghanistan is somewhat dependent on outside

1

Sanitized Copy Approved for Rel	ease 2010/08/	/18 : CIA-RDP8
			TOP SEC	RET
				18-
Manage of a second for the second		1 1	.:
Mass starvation is curre and seed stocks could be	ently unlike e eaten. and	the flow of	refugees to	У
neighboring countries co	ould increas	e.
	*		Ý

25X1

25X1

25X1

2

	TOP SECRET
PERSPECTIVE
INSURGENT RAIDS ACROSS THE S	OVIET BORDER
A Callege description to the control of the con-	was the Contra bandon have had a model that ross the Soviet border have had a negligible threat to the Soviet presence in · -	aids have been sporadic and small scale, d Moscow's concern about border security and the stability of its ethnic	minority areas close to the border. The ise Soviet military costs by tying down security. From the insurgents' standpoint, insurgents to procure limite	help to maintain morale and may enable insurgents to procure limite	a amounts of supplies.
Border Situation
Historians conorally agra	e that the Tajik, Uzbek, and Turkmen peoples neation of the Soviet-Afghan border in the arded it as an artificial imposition of ablishment of the Soviet presence in Central in many ways similar to the present Afghan
-	aked in the early 1920s but was not finally at resistance was periodically aided by tan, and after that resistance failed, many fled across the border to settle out of reach of Soviet control.
	de of the border, a folk memory of that according to Western journalists. That of Soviet-style control and of ethnic the USSR, political and police methods have ontrol, but Soviet authorities have always been apprehensive about it.	Such concern may have been a factor in the Soviet decision to invade Af	ghanistan.
Soviet Border Security
The USSR's sensitivity ab	out its borders has prompted strict security
	Afghan border being particularly well
	·

25X1

Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2010/08/18 : CIA-RDP85T00287R000800190001-5
TOP SECRET	25X1 •
guarded. KGB Border Guards maintain careful control over the populated parts of the border region and closely monitor civilians in the area,
The KGB's activities are in accord with a Soviet law that establishes a "forbidden zone" 30 kilometers deep along all USSR borders. Imagery indicates that there are about 100 outposts along the approximately 2,500-kilometer border and an estimated 8,000 to	. 25X1
12,000 guards, who could be augmented as necessary by approximately 8,000 regular army troops in the area. Civilian residents of the zone are registered; travelers are checked for appropriate entry stamps and for legitimate reasons for entry; residents are warned to report unusual	•
activity or the appearance of strangers.	25X1
Physical security along the Soviet side of the borderdefined by a river in its more populous parts and running through high mountains and deserts in other stretchesvaries according to the terrain. Imagery indicates that heavy securitya combination of nearly impenetrable	25x1 manmade barriers, alarm devices, and armed guardsprotects about 60 percent of the border, the portion that could easily be traversed. Watchtowers in heavy security areas are usually at one-to-two-kilometer intervals. Medium securitywith fewer outposts and manmade barriersexists along about 35 percent of the border, where rugged terrain, sparse population, and the lack of major transportation networks make crossings more difficult. In medium-security areas, five percent of the border area has only light security. This area, mostly along the Pyandzh River (the upper Amu Darya), is devoid of transportation routes, settlements, or border outposts, and it features extremely rugged terrain, particularly on the Soviet side. This area contains no border guard outposts but is probably patrolled periodically by air and monitored by means of remote surveillance or listening posts.	25X1
Insurgent Raids and Forays	2381
The evidence on raids into the USSR	[°] 25X1 indicating	o
"undeniably" that such raids have occurred, though they may have been little more than cattle-rustling expeditions. Moreover, Soviet media have periodically hinted that there is illegal cross-border traffic.	25X1
	20/(1
	25X1

4

21 June 1983 NESA M 83-10144CX

SOVA M 83-10111CX

forces of the Hizbi Islami i forces in Takhar Province oc	nsurgent group in Qonduz Province and Jamiat casionally mine roads across the river.
Other Support
psychological benefitsa mu views on resistance to the S	ross the border probably provide tual strengthening of morale and exchange of oviet and Afghan regimes. The Jamiat-i-buted 3,500 membership cards to Soviet membership cards have been d	3,400 Jamiat istributed to Soviet Tajiks, with the Jamiat receiving clothes and stolen	sheep in return. Also, opposition, with the Afghan the Soviet Army from partici Afghanistan. We believe suc	Soviet Tajiks exchange views on means of Tajiks trying to discourage their kinsmen in pating in counterinsurgency operations in h requests may have prompted a few defections and some covert h Afghanistan.	elp to the resistance from Tajik troops in Soviet Countermeasures
using informants. In one car about 200 Soviet troops in B wire and laid mines along the	ve included enhancing border security and se, alkh Province, near Termez, strung barbed e Afghan side of the Amu Darya River to At another point in the same region, the
	21 June 1092

SOVA M 83-10111CX

	TOP SECRET
31		25X1 •
		•
Soviets have increased the number of borde watchtowers because of the number of raids		25 X 1
	ountermeasures on Afghan soil	25 X 1
are hindered by the extensive control exer		, 25X1
only the major transportation routes through	et and Afghan forces control	0EV4 districts. Another Soviet countermeasure		25 X 1 Tajik origin, has prompted insurgents to	restrict their relations to	• trusted family members living in the USSR		25 X 1
	/
Conclusion
From the Soviet standpoint, the raids n general concern about the security of the may harden Moscow's resolve to consolidate	USSR borders. That concern may harden hoseow's resolve to consortate.	to to control over mighanistan.	25X1
The primary benefit of the insurgent contact the reports may be, is probably the bolstones.
increasing costs for the Soviets and the	tying down of some forces.
More frequent raids would probably tie up raise Soviet costs further. But the obstalogistic to expanding the scope and effective and effective and expanding the scope and effective and expanding the scope and effective and effective and expanding the scope and expanding the will probably remain so considerable as to	o preclude any notable political or military insurgent successes	•	25X1
	-4	q
	:	•
		٥

Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2010/08/18 : CIA-RDP85T00287R000800190001-5 Top Secret

Top Secret